The poem is titled Invictus, which in Latin mean Unconquered. In my view, there cannot be a more apt word to describe Nelson Mandela than THE INVICTUS - The Unconquered. I believe the greatest tribute that we can extend towards great Nelson Mandela is by living our lives with the examples set by him and an untiring trial of imbibing his great qualities within ourselves.

Invictus means unconquered in Latin. Why was this Mandela's favorite poem? In his mid forties, Mr. Mandela was imprisoned for 27 years for his opposition and activism against Apartheid (in the Afrikanns* language, meaning the state of being apart) - South Africa's segregation policy instituted after WWII. It is said that when Mandela's spirit was low and he was feeling despair during his long prison sentence, he would recite this poem which he had committed to memory.
